POLICY FRAMEWORK FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF THE PROVISIONS OF PREVENTION AND MONEY LAUNDERING ACT (PMLA) 2002

Introduction

The Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PMLA) came in force with effect from 1st July 2005.

As per the provisions of the PMLA, every banking company, financial institution (which includes chit fund company, a co-operative bank, a housing finance institution and a non-banking financial company) and market intermediary (Reporting Entity) (which includes a stockbroker, sub-broker, share transfer agent, banker to an issue, trustee to a trust deed, registrar to an issue, asset management company, depository participant, merchant banker, underwriter, portfolio manager, investment adviser and any other intermediary associated with the securities market and registered under Section 12 of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 (SEBI Act) shall have to adhere to client account opening procedures and maintain records of such "transactions" as prescribed by the PMLA and Rules notified there under.

Obligations of a "Reporting Entity" includes: -

- a. to maintain a record of all transactions covered as per the nature and value of which may be prescribed, in such manner as to enable it to reconstruct individual transactions
- b. furnish to the Director (FIU) within such time as may be prescribed information relating to such transactions, whether attempted or executed, the nature and value of which may be prescribed
- c. verify the identity of its clients in such manner and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed
- d. identify the beneficial owner, if any, of such of its clients, as may be prescribed
- e. maintain record of documents evidencing identity of its clients and beneficial owners, account files and business correspondence relating to its clients and information related to transactions for specified period.

For the purpose of PMLA, transactions include:

1. all cash transactions of the value of more than Rs.10 Lakhs or its equivalent in foreign currency.
2. all series of cash transactions integrally connected to each other, which have been valued below Rs.10 Lakhs or its equivalent in foreign currency, such series of transactions within one calendar month and the monthly aggregate exceeds an amount of Rs.10 Lakhs or its equivalent in foreign currency.
3. all suspicious transactions (remotely / integrally connected or related), whether or not made in cash and including, inter-alia, credits or debits into from any non-monetary account such as Demat account, security account maintained by the registered intermediary.

Further, in case there is a variance in Client Due Diligence/Anti Money Laundering standards prescribed by SEBI and the regulators of the host country, branches/overseas subsidiaries of intermediaries are required to adopt the more stringent requirements of the two.

For the purpose “Suspicious Transaction” means a transaction whether or not made in cash which to a person acting in good faith: –

- a. gives rise to a reasonable ground of suspicion that it may involve proceeds of an offence specified in the Schedule to the Act, regardless of the value involved; or
- b. appears to be made in circumstances of unusual or unjustified complexity; or
- c. appears to have no economic rationale or bonafide purpose; or
- d. gives rise to a reasonable ground of suspicion that it may involve financing of the activities relating to terrorism.

The Anti-Money Laundering Guidelines provides a general background on the subjects of money laundering and terrorist financing in India and provides guidance on the practical implications of the PMLA. The PMLA Guidelines sets out the steps that a registered intermediary and any of its representatives, need to implement to identify and discourage any “Money Laundering” (ML) or “Terrorist Financing” (TF) activities.

SEBI has issued various directives vide circulars, from time to time, covering issues related to Know Your Client (KYC) norms, Anti- Money Laundering (AML), Client Due Diligence (CDD) and Combating Financing of Terrorism (CFT). The directives lay down the minimum requirements and it is emphasized that the intermediaries may, according to their requirements, specify additional disclosures to be made by clients to address concerns of money laundering and suspicious transactions undertaken by clients.

While it is recognized that a “one-size-fits-all” approach may not be appropriate for the securities industry in India, each registered intermediary is required to implement suggested measures and procedures considering the specific nature of its business, organizational structure, type of clients and transactions, etc. to ensure that they are effectively applied.

Global measures taken to combat drug trafficking, terrorism and other organized and serious crimes have all emphasized the need for financial institutions, including securities market intermediaries, to establish internal procedures that effectively serve to prevent and impede money laundering and terrorist financing.

To be in compliance with these obligations, the senior management of a registered intermediary shall be fully committed to establishing appropriate policies and procedures for the prevention of ML and TF and ensuring their effectiveness and compliance with all relevant legal and regulatory requirements.

The obligations of an intermediary under Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PLMA) includes: -

- a. issuance and adoption of written policy statement for dealing with the risk of ML and TF within the framework of current statutory and regulatory requirements,
- b. ensuring that these directives and contents of policy is understood by all staff members,
- c. regular review of policy and procedures of prevention of ML & TF and to ensure that such reviews are conducted by the person other than the one framing the policy,
- d. adoption of client acceptance policies and procedures which are sensitive to the risk of ML & TF,
- e. undertaking client due diligence measures to an extent that is sensitive to the risk of ML & TF
- f. compliance with relevant statutory and regulatory requirements
- g. have system in place for identification, monitoring and reporting of suspected ML and TF

- transactions to concerned authorities
- h. co-operation with relevant law enforcement authorities and timely disclosure of information
 - i. defining the role of internal auditors to ensure compliance of policies, procedures and control to prevent money laundering.

Accordingly, we have drafted this written policy framework (hereinafter called as “PMLA Policy”) (consisting of E) for policy which aims to have a system in place to identify, monitor and reporting the suspected money laundering or terrorist financing transactions to law enforcing authorities within the framework of current statutory and regulatory requirements.

All concerned are hereby advised to ensure that all possible measures are taken for the effective implementation of this Policy and that the measures taken are adequate, appropriate and abide by the spirit and requirements as enshrined in the PMLA.

Suggestive measures for identification of beneficial ownership are as given below: -

i) For clients other than individuals or trusts:

Where the client is a person other than an individual or trust, viz., company, partnership or unincorporated association/body of individuals, identification of beneficial owners of the client may be done by applying following measures namely, ascertain the identity of the natural person, who, whether acting alone or together, or through one or more juridical person, exercises control through ownership or who ultimately has a controlling ownership interest.

Explanation: Controlling ownership interest means ownership of/entitlement to:

1. more than 10% of shares or capital or profits of the juridical person, where the juridical person is a company;
2. more than 10% of the capital or profits of the juridical person, where the juridical person is a partnership; or

In cases where there exists doubt as to whether the person with the controlling ownership interest is the beneficial owner or where no natural person exerts control through ownership interests, the identity of the natural person exercising control over the juridical person through other means.

iii.) Exemption in case of listed companies:

Where the client or the owner of the controlling interest is a company listed on a stock exchange or is a majority-owned subsidiary of such a company, it is not necessary to identify and verify the identity of any shareholder or beneficial owner of such companies.

iv.) Applicability for foreign investors:

for dealing with foreign investors', clarifications issued vide SEBI circulars CIR/MIRSD/11/2012 dated September 5, 2012 and CIR/ MIRSD/ 07/ 2013 dated September 12, 2013, for the purpose of identification of beneficial ownership of the client shall be followed.

- a. Verify the identity of the beneficial owner of the client and/or the person on whose behalf a transaction is being conducted, corroborating the information provided in relation to (c);
- b. Understand the ownership and control structure of the client;
- c. Conduct ongoing due diligence and scrutiny, i.e. Perform ongoing scrutiny of the transactions and account throughout the course of the business relationship to ensure that the transactions being conducted are consistent with the registered intermediary's knowledge of the client, its business and risk profile, taking into account, where necessary, the client's source of funds; and
- d. All documents, data or information of all clients and beneficial owners collected under the CDD process shall be periodically updated.

Reliance on third party for carrying out due diligence

We may rely on a third party for the purpose of

- a. identification and verification of the identity of a client and
- b. where the client is acting on behalf of a beneficial owner, identification of the beneficial owner and verification of the identity of the beneficial owner.

Provided such third party shall be regulated, supervised or monitored for, and have measures in place for compliance with CDD and record-keeping requirements in line with the obligations under the PML Act.

However, as a registered intermediary we shall be ultimately responsible for CDD and undertaking enhanced due diligence measures

4. Policy for acceptance of Clients

Our client acceptance policies and procedures aim to identify the types of clients that are likely to pose a higher than average risk of ML or TF so that we will be in a better position to apply client due diligence on a risk sensitive basis depending on the type of client business relationship or transactions

In a nutshell, the following safeguards are to be followed while accepting the clients namely:

- i. No account is opened in a fictitious / benami name or on an anonymous basis.
- ii. Each client shall be classified into low or medium or high-risk categories depending upon the risk perception.

Such risk categorization may be arrived considering various factors of risk perception of the client having regard to: -

- clients' location (registered office address, correspondence addresses and other addresses if applicable),
- nature of business activity, trading turnover etc. and
- manner of making payment for transactions undertaken.

Clients of Special Category (CSC) (as defined later in this policy) may, if necessary, be classified even higher. Such clients require higher degree of due diligence and regular update of Know Your Client (KYC) profile.

- iii. Documentation requirements and other information to be collected in respect of different classes of clients depending on the perceived risk and having regard to the requirements of Rule 9 of the PML Rules, Directives and Circulars issued by SEBI from time to time.

We must obtain documentary evidence of each KYC information provided by the client and verify each such supporting document with originals prior to acceptance of a copy and same be stamped "Verified with the original" and each client must be met in person before registration.

The information collected by us should be enough to satisfy competent authorities (regulatory / enforcement authorities) in future that due diligence was observed by us in compliance with the Guidelines.

A complete identification record of person doing the In-person verification and verification of documents must be kept in readily available manner.

- iv. We should not open an account where we are unable to apply appropriate CDD measures /

KYC policies. This shall be applicable in cases where it is not possible to ascertain the identity of the client, or the information provided by the client is suspected to be non-genuine, or there is perceived non co-operation of the client in providing full and complete information.

We shall not continue to do business with such a person and file a suspicious activity report. We shall also evaluate whether there is suspicious any trading in determining whether to freeze or close the account. We shall be cautious to ensure that we do not return securities or money that may be from suspicious trades.

Further, we shall consult the relevant authorities in determining what action we shall take when we suspect suspicious trading activity.

- v. We shall ensure that in case of individual client only the client himself/ herself be allowed to transact on his/her own behalf. A person may be allowed to deal on behalf of his / her spouse, dependent children or dependent parents provided a written authorization is obtained from concerned family member.

In case of non-individual clients only the person(s) having appropriate written authorization are allowed to deal for and on behalf of the client.

In all the cases, we must obtain the identification documents of the person so authorized to deal on behalf of the client and adequate verification of person's authority to act on behalf of the client shall also be carried out.

The authorization letter should specify the manner in which the account shall be operated, transaction limits for the operation, additional authority (if any) required for transactions exceeding a specified quantity/value.

- vi. Before activating any account, we must ensure that the identity of the client does not match with any person having known criminal background or is not banned in any other manner, whether in terms of criminal or civil proceedings by any enforcement agency worldwide.

An updated list of individuals and entities which are subject to various sanction measures such as freezing of assets/accounts, denial of financial services etc., as approved by the Security Council Committee established pursuant to various United Nations' Security Council Resolutions (UNSCRs) can be accessed at its website at <http://www.un.org>.

- vii. The CDD process shall necessarily be revisited when there are suspicions of money laundering or financing of terrorism (ML/FT).

For the purpose of above and elsewhere used in this policy framework, Clients of Special Category (CSC) shall include: -

- i.) Non-resident clients
- ii.) High net-worth clients unless known to Senior Management or introduced by a known source,
- iii.) Trust, Charities, Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) and organizations receiving donations
- iv.) Companies having close family shareholdings or beneficial ownership
- v.) Politically Exposed Persons (PEP) are individuals who are or have been entrusted with prominent public functions in a foreign country, e.g., Heads of States or of Governments, senior politicians, senior government/judicial/military officers, senior executives of state-owned corporations, important political party officials, etc.

vi.) Companies offering foreign exchange offerings vii.) Clients in high risk countries where existence / effectiveness of money laundering controls is suspect, where there is unusual banking secrecy, countries active in narcotics production, countries where corruption (as per Transparency International Corruption Perception Index) is highly prevalent, countries against which government sanctions are applied, countries reputed to be any of the following – Havens/ sponsors of international terrorism, offshore financial centers, tax havens, countries where fraud is highly prevalent. While dealing with clients in high-risk countries where the existence/effectiveness of money laundering control is suspect, intermediaries apart from being guided by the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) statements that identify countries that do not or insufficiently apply the FATF Recommendations, published by the FATF on its website (www.fatf-gafi.org), shall also independently access and consider other publicly available information.

viii.) Non face to face clients ix.) Clients with dubious reputation as per public information available etc.

The above-mentioned list is only illustrative, and the intermediary shall exercise independent judgment to ascertain whether any other set of clients shall be classified as CSC or not.

5. Risk-Based Approach to KYC

Client acceptance is a critical activity in AML compliance. Registering any client means providing such client with an entry point to local and international financial systems. Client acceptance, thus, becomes the first step in controlling money laundering and terrorist financing.

Regulatory guidelines stipulate that a sound KYC program should determine the true identity and existence of the customer, and the risk associated with the customer. It is therefore imperative that we capture information about their background, sources of funds, nature and type of business, domicile and financial products used by them and how these are delivered to them in order to properly understand their risk profile.

It is generally recognized that certain clients may be of a higher or lower risk category depending on the circumstances such as the client's background, type of business relationship or transaction etc. The basic principle enshrined in this approach is that the registered intermediaries shall adopt an enhanced client due diligence process for higher risk categories of clients. Conversely, a simplified client due diligence process may be adopted for lower risk categories of clients.

In line with the risk-based approach, the type and amount of identification information and documents that we shall obtain necessarily depend on the risk category of a particular client and for this purpose clients may be classified into following categories namely: -

Category – A: Low Risk

Category – B: Medium Risk

Category – C: High Risk

Category “A” clients are those pose low or nil risk. These clients have a respectable and verifiable social and financial standing. Their KYC Information and financial details are easily verifiable.

Category “B” clients are clients who cannot be comfortably placed in neither in Low risk nor in high-risk category.

Medium risk client includes clients who satisfy following criteria:

- Resident of India
- Hesitates to provide any document on demand and delays to provide required information
- Income proof in line with the trades done but exceeds limits frequently
- Direct Client with inadequate reference
- No delegation of authority for operation of account
- Honors the commitment but with little delay
- No cheque bounces
- Places order within reasonable period
- Transactions of the Clients will be in line with the Financial Status and net worth of the client.
- Makes off market transfer to family members

Category “C” clients are those who have defaulted in the past, have suspicious background or the clients identified as CSC.

Further, low risk profile shall not apply when there are suspicions of ML/FT or when other factors give rise to a belief that the customer does not in fact pose a low risk.

Any business relationship with “High Risk Clients” including clients identified as CSC must not be commenced unless approved by Senior Management Officials.

As customer risk rating and KYC drives enhanced due diligence and ongoing monitoring it is critical that an ongoing comprehensive assessment is conducted to understand the risks associated with our business and customers and necessary modifications and improvements in associated Client acceptance and Due Diligence Policies and Procedures are made.

Risk Assessment

We have formulated a periodic risk assessment mechanism to identify money laundering and terrorist financing risk, assess and take effective measures to mitigate them with respect to our clients, countries or geographical areas, nature and volume of transactions, payment methods used by our clients, etc.

The risk assessment shall also take into account any country specific information that is circulated by the Government of India and SEBI from time to time, as well as, the updated list of individuals and entities who are subjected to sanction measures as required under the various United Nations' Security Council Resolutions (these can be accessed at the URL - http://www.un.org/sc/committees/1267/aq_sanctions_list.shtml and <http://www.un.org/sc/committees/1988/list.shtml>)

Our risk assessment process considers all the relevant factors before determining the level of overall risk and the appropriate level and type of mitigation to be applied and assessment is documented and updated regularly and made available to competent authorities and self-regulating bodies, as and when required.

6. Client Identification Procedures

We carry out client identification procedure at different stages i.e. while establishing the relationship with the client, while carrying out transactions for the client or when there is any doubt regarding the veracity or the adequacy of previously obtained client identification data.

- We shall identify whether their client or potential client or the beneficial owner of such client is a politically exposed person.

Such procedures shall include seeking relevant information from the client, referring to publicly available information or accessing the commercial electronic databases of PEPS. Further, the enhanced CDD measures as outlined shall also be applicable where the beneficial owner of a client is a PEP.

- Senior management's prior approval is mandatory for establishing business relationships with PEPs. Further, where a client has been accepted and the client or beneficial owner is subsequently found to be, or subsequently becomes a PEP, we shall obtain senior management approval to continue the business relationship.
- Reasonable measures too shall be taken to verify the sources of funds as well as the wealth of clients and beneficial owners identified as PEP.
- The client shall be identified by obtaining adequate information to satisfactorily establish the identity of each new client and the purpose of the intended nature of the relationship.
- Client's information must be adequate enough to satisfy competent authorities (regulatory/enforcement authorities) in future that due diligence was observed by us in compliance with the directives. Each original document shall be seen prior to acceptance of a copy.
- Failure by prospective client to provide satisfactory evidence of identity shall be noted and reported to the Senior Management.
- We must follow SEBI prescribed minimum requirements relating to KYC for certain classes of registered intermediaries from time to time and conduct ongoing due diligence where inconsistencies in the information provided by the client are noticed.
- Irrespective of the amount of investment made by clients, no minimum threshold or exemption is available from obtaining the minimum information / documents from clients as stipulated in the PML Rules/ SEBI Circulars (as amended from time to time) regarding the verification of the records of the identity of any client and non-compliance shall attract appropriate sanctions / regulatory actions.
- The underlying objective shall be to follow the requirements enshrined in the PMLA, SEBI Act and Regulations, directives and circulars issued there under so that we are aware of the clients on whose behalf we are dealing.

7. Transaction based Monitoring and Identification of Suspicious Transactions

Ongoing monitoring is an essential element of effective KYC procedures. We can effectively control and reduce the risk only if we have an understanding of the normal and reasonable activity of the client so that they have the means of identifying transactions that fall outside the regular pattern of activity.

However, the extent of monitoring will depend on the risk sensitivity of the account.

Special attention is required to be given to all complex, unusually large transactions and all unusual patterns which have no apparent economic or visible lawful purpose.

For the purpose of monitoring of transaction under PMLA following should be taken care of:

- i. examine the background and the purpose of transactions which are complex or unusually large/ with patterns which appear to have no economic purpose
- ii. transactions which exceed the limits specified for the relevant class of client accounts
- iii. understanding of normal activity in client account to identify deviations and substantial increase in business without any apparent cause
- iv. clients transferring large sums of money to/from overseas locations
- v. attempted transfer of proceeds to unrelated 3rd parties
- vi. transactions of clients based in high-risk jurisdictions
- vii. Unusual transactions by CSCs and businesses undertaken by offshore banks / financial services, businesses reported to be in the nature of export- import of small items
- viii. Random examination of a selection of transaction to comment on their nature

Broad category of triggers that will require the complete analysis of transaction may include:

- a. Transactions involving Artificial Volume Creation / High Value Deals / Synchronized Trades
- b. client's disproportionate volume with respect to his last known financial details
- c. scrip concentration-concentrated position in particular scrips which have unusual price or volumes
- d. high value off market transfer instructions
- e. high value transactions in a new/dormant account
- f. frequent small quantity transactions in an account
- g. transaction undertaken by client with respect to whom alerts raised by employees/media reports/ Enforcement Agency etc.
- h. transactions undertaken by customers for whom there are adverse media reports about criminal activities/terrorist activities / terrorist financing activities
- i. transaction undertaken by customers who offered false/forged identification documents / address found to be wrong

A list of circumstances which may be in the nature of suspicious transactions is given below. This list is only illustrative and whether a particular transaction is suspicious or not will depend upon the background, details of the transactions and other facts and circumstances: -

- a. Clients whose identity verification seems difficult or clients that appear not to cooperate
- b. Asset management services for clients where the source of the funds is not clear or not in keeping with clients' apparent standing/business activity;
- c. Clients based in high risk jurisdictions;
- d. Substantial increases in business without apparent cause;

Findings of transaction analysis must be recorded in writing, as the same along with records and related documents may be required to be provided to auditors,

SEBI, Stock Exchanges, FIUIND, other relevant authorities during audits or as and when asked for.

These records are required to be maintained and preserved for a period of Eight Years (8) from the date of transaction between the client and intermediary.

8. Reporting of Suspicious Transactions

The Principal Officer would act as a central reference point in playing an active role in the identification and assessment of potentially suspicious transactions and facilitating onward reporting of suspicious transactions.

Accordingly, any potential suspicious transaction shall immediately be notified to Principle Officer which may be a detailed report with specific reference to the clients, transactions and the nature / reason of suspicion and for this purpose, transactions abandoned or aborted by clients on being asked to give some details or to provide documents are also to be reported even if not completed by clients, irrespective of the amount of the transaction.

We must ensure continuity in dealing with the reported client as normal until told otherwise and the client not be told of the report/suspicion i.e. company officials and employees shall be prohibited from "Tipping off" the fact that a STR or related information is being reported or provided to the FIU-IND.

The Principal Officer shall examine the transaction in detail and if reaches to the conclusion that the notified transaction is "Suspicious" shall report the same to Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU) within 7 days from the date of arriving at such conclusion by filing the Suspicion Transaction Report (STR).

Should there be any suspected drug related or other laundered money or terrorist property, the competent investigating authorities would need to trace through the audit trail for reconstructing a financial profile of the suspect account. To enable this reconstruction, we shall retain the following information for the accounts of their clients in order to maintain a satisfactory audit trail:

11. Training of staff/Employees

All the staff members involved in front office dealings, back office, KYC & Compliances, Risk Management or any kind of client dealings need to be adequately trained in AML and CFT (Combating Financing of Terrorism) procedures. They should fully understand the rationale behind these directives, obligations and requirements, implement them consistently and are sensitive to the risks of our systems being misused by unscrupulous elements.

Accordingly, we have an ongoing employee-training programme (in-house as well as attending of independent training workshops) so that the concerned staff are adequately trained in AML and CFT procedures. These training programs are conducted on periodic basis and each of the concerned staff is required to attend at least 2 such training programs each year.

Further, the Principal Officer is authorized to ensure that all the concerned staff is well versed with latest modifications in the PMLA policy framework and is adequately sensitized to the risks of ML & TF.

12. Employees Hiring

We have adequate screening procedures in place to ensure high standard when hiring employees. We have identified the key positions within the Company structure having regard to the risk of money laundering and terrorist financing.

The HR Department is instructed to verify the identity, cross check all the references, family background and should take adequate safeguards to establish the authenticity and genuineness of the persons before recruiting.

The department should obtain the following documents:

- 1 Photographs
- 2 Proof of address
- 3 Identity proof
- 4 Proof of Educational Qualification

13. Investor' Education

Implementation of AML/CFT measures requires us to demand certain information from investors which may be of personal nature, or which have never been called for. Such information can include documents evidencing source of funds/income tax returns/bank records etc. This can sometimes lead to raising of questions by the clients with regard to the motive and purpose of collecting such information. We, therefore, need to sensitize prospective client that these requirements are emanating from AML and CFT framework.

This may either be done by preparing specific literature or by educating the clients/sub-brokers/Authorized Person on the objectives of the Anti-Money Laundering (AML) / Combating Financing of Terrorism (CFT) programme.

14. Review of PMLA/CFT Procedures
